A scarce and little-known Eugene Field item is included in the sale held June 8th in Chicago. It appears in "The Journalist, a Pictorial Souvenir, 1884-1887," which is unknown to the majority of the Field collectors and admirers. The title is "The Editor's Trousers; A Satirical Poem." For dollars might be gathered in for county purthe benefit of sundry scrapbooks it is repeated

THE EDITOR'S TROUSERS. Two ragged holes beam sadly out Below the suburbs of his vest-Like guardian angels of unrest, They follow him fore'er about, No picture could the people scan With half the greedy, sad intent That on the dual holes are bent-The trade-marks of an honest man!

How came those hungry holets there? Ah, ask the hours of toil and pain; The pencil, lamp, the woven cane, The creaky, rusty office chair! Why, everything is new at first And made to stem the tide of life, But all must yield at last to strife, And even pants at length will burst.

And so, honest holes! We meet, You with a proud and kindly grace Good welcome to the resting place, Thrice welcome to the royal seat!-In all the turmoil, all the strife, There are no teachers half so true To teach us what we learn from you-The stern realities of life.

COUNTY COURT BUSY

Getting Things Ready For the Local Option Election at Mayslick

It seems that THE LEDGER was off in its local article on the quietude of the city, especially Court street, Monday, for as a matter of fact while the street and offices on same wore a deserted look, upstairs in the Courthouse the County Judge and half a dozen lawyers were as busy as bees trying the numerous back tax cases and preparing the orders for the Local Option Election to be held next month in the town of Mayslick and in Magisterial District No. 6, embracing the towns of Mayslick and Sardis.

Some fine legal arguments and skillful expositions of abstract law were heard by the few bystanders, and Monday, after all, was a busy day in Court street.

County Court is still grinding and the lawyers still pounding on the back tax cases, while the legal atmosphere is saturated with precedents that make confusion more confounded.

Of the products of the Ohio Valley, it was well said in a recent comprehensive article contributed to the June Inter-Nation Magazine, Boston, by Honorable B. G. Humphreys of Mississippi, and one of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, in speaking of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers,

"There is no such valley under Heaven as that which is actually, not theoretically, drained by these great rivers. Taking no account of the Missouri Valley and not including, as is sometimes done, everything between the Alleghenies and the Rockies, but limiting our calculations to the actual drainage basin of the Mlssissippi and the Ohio Rivers, we have a valley which produces annually in the two items of agriculture and manufactures alone $5,000,000,000. Can you comprehend these figures? Five billion dollars would pay the expenditures of both War and Navy Departments from 1861 to 1865, inclusive. There would then be left enough to wipe out the National debt, pay the expenses of the Spanish War and have enough remaining to reimburse the Federal Treasury for every dollar spent on all our harbors and rivers since the Declaration of Independence was signed."

IN WHICH ALL ARE INTERESTED.

As Congressman Humphreys excludes consideration of the Missouri Valley-and a great valley it is-consideration of the products of the valleys of the Allegheny, the Monongahela, the Kanawha, the Muskingum, the Scioto, the Wabash, the Green, the Tennessee and the Cumberland, with all other affluents of the Ohio, are to be excluded in estimating the portion of the $5,000,000,000 contributed by the Ohio Valley. > But all is not involved in estimates, nor in the present productions of the Ohio Valley, in which every community and every miner, manufacturer. farmer, is interested. It is much more in the value of the products of the Ohio Valley as they would be with a continuous nine-foot stage from . Pittsburgh to Cairo. With that stage of navigation the total value of the products of the valley of the Ohio would closely approximate, if they would not exceed, the present combined values of the products of the valleys of the Ohio and the Mississippi, their affluent valleys not being taken into consideration. As was testified by Mr. Charles A. Pillsbury of Minneapolis before a committee of the Senate: "We consider the presence of the Mississippi River, and the fac that it is kept in navigable condition, the great regulator of railway rates; and that the benefits should not be measured by the tonnage as by the possibility of sending the freight by water." THE CRUX OF THE MATTER.

Commenting on that answer, Mr. Humphreys thus aptly says: "That is the crux of the whole matter. It is the capacity of the stream to bear tonnage, and not the actual tonnage borne, which is a correct test of its usefulness." The testimony of Mr. Pillsbury, possibly the argest manufacturer of flour in the whole world, is sufficiently interesting to warrant another extract from it, and it is one that will appeal directly to every manufacturer, miner, farmer and shipper in the entire Ohio Valleyand it is brief and to the point. Senator Nelson asked two questions, as follows:

RAILWAYS CANNOT COMPETE.

Senator Nelson: "And the Mississippi river being there, keeps the rates down?"

Mr. Pillsbury: "The fact of the Mississippi River being there prevents them from making any combination to maintain excessive rates. The necessity is not so much the amount carried by the steamers as the amount that can be

Senator Nelson: "Approximately, what is the relative cost of transporting freight from your city by rail and by river?"

Mr. Pillsbury: "During the season of open navigation, the railways cannot compete, when you take the Great Lakes into account, if you mean that. If you mean all water communications, they absolutely can't compete-

The lesson of rate regulation and of competition is completely put by Mr. Pillsbury. The railways cannot and do not compete with waterways which, as Mr. Pillsbury said of the Mississippi, are "kept in a navigable condition."

TWO THINGS ARE CERTAIN.

When the Rivers and Harbors Appropriation Bill was before the House at its last session, Mr. Humphreys, in the course of his remarks, said One thing is certain, and we can all agree on that-if we are to meet the products of foreign fields, of foreign forges and of foreign mines a the open markets of the world, and sell our products in fair competition with them, we must not and we cannot go into the fight hampered and handicapped by unjust, unreasonable or extortionate freight charges."

The other certainty is that with the Ohio river improved to a nine-foot stage the year round, there would be neither handicapping nor hampering of the magnificent products that would come to the shores of the Ohio seeking-and finding—a cheap, a safe and a convenient means of transportation, in which neither excessive nor extortionate charges would play a part. The improved Ohio would be a freight rate regulator of the utmost potency, which could not be overcome. To that end the Ohio Valley Improvement Association has labored and is laborng in the full confidence of ultimate success, with freight rate relief to the tremendously important interests of the Ohio Valley and with a magnificent development of its limitless re-

CONFIRMED PROOF.

Residents of Maysville Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of bad backs-from distressing kidney ills-thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Maysville, who so testified years ago, now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Maysville kidney sufferers.

A. W. McClanahan, of A. W. and B. P. Mc-Clanahan, grocers, at 121 Second street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I can indorse Doan's Kidney Pills more heartily today than I did five years ago when I told the Maysville people that this medicine had cured me of severe kidney trouble and backache that had bothered me more or less for twenty years and seemed to be growing worse and worse all the time. I repeat that I can more confidently recommend Doan's Kidney Pills today than I did in that testimonial because my cure has been permanent and I have had no kidney trouble for nearly five years. As proof that I am a firm believer in Doan's Kidney Pills I will be only too pleased to reiterate the above to anyone who may inquire. I got the remedy at J. Jas. Wood

& Son's Drugstore.' Forsale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
